

Community & Regional Economic Policy & Analysis Course Information

Course Title: Comm & Reg Econ Policy/Analysis

Teaching Institution: North Dakota State University

As Dept. / Course
Number at Teaching
Institution: AGECE 791

Course Access at
Teaching Institution: <http://blackboard.ndsu.nodak.edu>

Course Description: This course introduces economic and social concepts relevant to rural communities and the issues and problems they face as well as addressing public sector processes, analytical tools, and basic strategies for economic development.

Instructor's Full Name: F. Larry Leistritz and Nancy M. Hodur

Academic Title: Professor and Research Scientist

Campus Address: Leistritz: Morrill 213B Hodur: Morrill 211B

Phone: Leistritz: 701-231-7455 Hodur: 701-231-7357

Fax: 701-231-7400

Email Address: Leistritz: fleistriz@ndsu.edu Hodur: nancy.hodur@ndsu.edu

Course Start Date: January 8, 2008

Course End Date: March 27, 2008

Direct Enrollment Link:

Required Textbooks: Shaffer, Ron, Steve Deller, and Dave Marcouiller. 2004.
Community Economics: Linking Theory and Practice. Ames, IA:

Blackwell Publishing.

Credit Hours/Cost: 3 credit hours at $415.00/hour = $1,245.00

Teaching University
Campus Coordinator: Karen Murie
Karen.murie@ndsu.edu

Teaching University
Course Access <https://bb.ndsu.nodak.edu/>

Students will use their NDSU EMPLID to access the course. All NDSU students establish this ID when they are accepted into the program. Other Great Plains IDEA students enrolled at partner institutions will have their EMPLID created. If previous courses have been taken at NDSU, you will use the same EMPLID to access this course as you used to access your previous course(s). If you no longer have access, please contact Karen.murie@ndsu.edu for assistance. Instructions to access Blackboard will be sent to new students by e-mail approximately two weeks before the start of class.

An e-mail to give students enrollment information will be e-mailed to all enrolled students at least one week prior to the start of the course. If you do not receive this, please contact your campus coordinator or the NDSU Campus Coordinator (Karen.murie@ndsu.edu) 1) to make sure that they have you enrolled; 2) the e-mail address they have for you in the Great Plains IDEA database is up-to-date.